

Hi, I'm Terry

About Me

I started in Accounting and was elected by my boss to be the on-site Systems Administrator for my Technical skills and have been in IT ever since.

Currently

I am working on improving my web development skills by attending a code boot camp.

I tend to spend my time designing great user experiences and testing software using Node's Mocha framework.

Please click the star to know me better and see what I can do for you.

